Good Evening!

Great day for it.

We've got to go against the experts again, figuring the soldiers will have a push-button air attack that'll turn the navy ship bottoms up. It's Army by seven points.

For anything your little ol' heart desires, of course, but especially for that Army-Navy classic down at the stadium.

After the first minute of the first round you figured ancient Archie had had it. And this boy Floyd Patterson may make a pretty fair champ if he can hang on to the title long enough to grow up to the crown.

After the first minute of the first round you figured ancient Archie had had it. And this boy Floyd Patterson may make a pretty fair champ if he can hang on to the title long enough to grow up to the crown.

December 1 it is.

The month of growing anticipation, excitement, happiness, homecomings, finest of music and resurgence of inherently generous and thoughtful qualities of man. Not nice month on the whole calendar.

And President Eisenhower gives the signal for a shipment of a half million barrels of oil daily to Western European countries facing critical shortages.

The very wise thing to do, we'd say. For further elucidation see editorial on Page 6.

Travel may broaden a person but not as much as the eating places along the highway.

Move Will Speed Canal Reopening

U. S. Releases Oil Shipments To W. Europe

LONDON — UP — France and Britain were reported agreed today on plans for early withdrawal of troops from Egypt to speed the Suez Canal reopening and restore Western Allied unity before a full Syrian crisis breaks.

Soviet Russia kept the Middle East simmering by repeating its charges that the United States is carrying out a provocative campaign against Syria "in preparation of an armed attack."

Diplomats regarded the Syrian problem as potentially more dangerous than the Suez crisis. They said it was virtually certain Soviet "volunteers" would go into action if there is war between Syria and Turkey and Iraq.

Israel Readies Warning

The Israeli government ordered its United Nations representative to submit a resolution condemning Russia for its meddling in Mideast affairs.

Authoritative sources said Britain and France had agreed to pull their infantry troops completely out of Egypt by the end of the year at the latest and possibly by Christmas.

By doing so, they hoped to rebuild the shattered Western Alliance which both nations regard as necessary for their survival. But they still remain highly critical of American policy.

Face Parliamentary Revolts

Both governments faced the possibility of parliamentary revolts unless they make the withdrawal as painless as possible. This is to be done through a gradual withdrawal that would permit

Rebel Leader Back In Cuba

HAVANA, Cuba — UP — The reported return to Cuba of rebel leader Fidel Castro spurred fears today of further bloodshed.

Castro has vowed that he and his followers will overthrow the government of President Fulgencio Batista before the end of the year or "perish in the attempt."

The tars have lost only to Tulane, 21-6, and were held to a 7-7 stalemate by Duke. Army's three setbacks have been at the hands of powerful Pittsburgh, Syracuse and Michigan.

The pre-game setting is virtually similar to that of 1955. Once more, Navy is entering the fray with a 6-1 season log and again Army has a 5-3 record.

The return of the young rebel leader from exile in Mexico overshadowed Friday's violence in which at least 25 persons were killed or wounded. Casualties included six killed and 19 wounded.

Frisky Horses Take Run In Levittown

The clattering of hoofs resounded through the streets of Kenwood section, Levittown yesterday afternoon as a pair of runaway horses frolicked through the community.

It took the determined effort of several Bristol Township police officers, the dogcatcher and finally the owner of the horses to end the frisky cantering of runaway horses.

But they weren't caught until they terrified the neighborhood and trampled lawns. The telephone switchboard at Bristol Township police headquarters was flooded with calls from excited residents who reported "two horses are heading this way."

The horses, "Beauty" and "Princess", are owned by El-

Court Lifts Injunction Against Twp.

The Philadelphia Federal District Court yesterday upheld a decision by Justice of the Peace Leo Dougherty requiring a Philadelphia contractor to pay some $2,500 in fines for failing to get building permits for electrical work on 97 homes in Bristol Township II.

Dougherty's decision thus far has been blocked by a restraining order brought by the Federal Housing Authority, which contend the local square had no jurisdiction over a federal project.

The authority contended the Edison Electrical Co., which carried out the electrical installations, did not need to get building permits for the work from the township because of the nature of the housing project.

The restraining order was granted Sept. 7. The case was scheduled to come up for hearing earlier, but was marked by a judicial disqualification when District Judge George A. Welsh remarked, "I don't know why you are fighting this case, you can't win," to Dougherty and Gilbert Kraus, township solicitor.

Kraus challenged Judge Welsh's comment on prejudicial grounds and Judge Welsh agreed to step down from the bench for the trial. His place was taken by Judge Francis L. Van Dusen, who dissolved the temporary restraining order, allowing Dougherty to enforce the fines.

Dougherty said he will await advice of the court as to the amount of time the electrical firm should be given to pay the levy of $25 and costs on the 97 counts lodged against it.

Dougherty disclosed that Bronson earlier agreed to pay the fines but went into an unexplained delay after he was granted time to raise the money. He said then he was in the process of issuing a warrant for his arrest.

Four Cases Continued

Four Lower Bucks County cases were continued in county criminal court this week, in addition to those of William R. Smith for murder and Albert A. Kunitis for a Bristol safe burglary.

Charles Day, Philadelphia, operating a car with a suspended license in Falls township; Edward Wunsch, Hatboro, passing worthless checks in Bristol.

John Watson, Sr., Philadelphia, operating a car in Middletown township with a suspended license, and Robert W. Rich, 7 Garden Lane, Levittown, burglary.

Rich is scheduled to plead guilty on Dec. 7 to taking two bottles of liquor from Hillside Tavern, Edgely.

Obituary

$206 Donated

The Lower Bucks emergency campaign is headed by Medill Bair, chairman of the Lower Bucks Red Cross District, with the assistance of Mrs. Clyde F. Brown, director and volunteer services chairman and John L. Marsh, executive director.

Mr. Marsh pointed out that the Red Cross District's campaign is only for money because it is impossible to transport and sort goods fast enough to meet the urgent needs. But donations of objects for Hungarian relief may be delivered to the Friends Service Committee in Philadelphia.

Red Cross Volunteers

Under Mrs. Brown's direction, Red Cross volunteers are already carrying out well-organized regional campaigns throughout Lower Bucks County, centered in Levittown, Bristol, Morrisville, Andalusia, Langhorne, Southampton, Newtown, and Yardley.

The fund drive is being conducted with canisters at places of business, industrial contacts and by the churches. In addition, contributions may be sent to the District office at 435 Radcliffe street, Bristol.

Mrs. Brown today cited the Articles of Faith, which has sparked the Red Cross movement and caused it to be saluted as the greatest institution for mercy and help in the world.

"Your contribution to the Red Cross' Hungarian Relief Fund," she said, "will assist the Red Cross in fulfilling its charter obligation, 'to continue and carry on a system of national and international relief and apply the same to mitigating the suffering caused . . . by great national calamities."

2 Motorists Get Tickets

Two motorists were given traffic tickets as the result of a rear end collision on Route 1 near Thriftmart, Falls Township, at 7:30 last night.

Police cited William C. Chester, 53, of Gillam and Hill Avenues, Langhorne for failing to yield the right of way. Officers Robert Gallagher and Elliott Bainbridge reported Chester pulled out of the market and made a left turn on Route 1.

A car driven by Walter W. Eppright, 43, of 165 . . . Kenwood Drive, Levittown, crashed into the rear of Chester's vehicle. Police charged Eppright with reckless driving.

No one was injured.

Bensalem Mishaps Cut

Bensalem Police Chief William Riempf's "shake 'em up system" against accidents got results as he announced that last month's accident rate in the township was cut almost in half over the October report.

Chief Riempf said the accident report for last month listed only 18 accidents as compared with the October report of 34 accidents.

This is due, in part to the three speed traps that were operated last month, the chief said, and due in part to the 35-mile per hour speed limits in the township.

Burlington May Be Site Of Steel Mill

Reports that a huge steel mill would be built in Burlington and Florence Townships were running stronger than ever despite the lack of confirmation from any source.

Speculation has it that either the Phoenix Iron and Steel Company, a subsidiary of the Barium Steel Company of Harrisburg, or the Lukens Steel Company of Coatesville, will build a plant on a 900-acre tract across the river.

Several persons, including Mayor Michael Chanti, of Florence Township, confirmed that something "was in the wind," but all said they were pledged to secrecy until the company gave its clearance.

Lukens Steel has denied any plans of expansion. While the Phoenix firm said it is considering various expansion programs which might include acquiring land, officials added no decision has been reached yet.

Reports have it that the plant would be located in the vicinity of the new factory of the National Gypsum Company and the Turnpike bridge.

U.S. Offers

The President said the offer of asylum would give practical effect to the American people's intense desire to help the victims of Soviet oppression.

The government also will materially assist the government of Austria, "which has responded so generously to the refugees' needs, to carry on its policy of political asylum," the President said.

Mr. Eisenhower said he would ask Congress to enact provisions which would "allow at least some of the escapees" the opportunity of permanent resettlement in the United States, having in mind particularly the fact that many of those refugees undoubtedly have relatives here."

The President said he had directed the secretary of defense to work out arrangements bringing the refugees to the United States under agreements to be made with Austria and the Intergovernmental Committee on European Migration.

About 500 of the refugees will receive Refugee Relief Act visas under the emergency program initiated three weeks ago. The remaining 15,000 will be admitted under parole provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the announcement said.

When the 21,500 have been exhausted, the situation will be re-examined, the President said.

So far, fewer than 1,000 refugees have reached the United States in the emergency program.

Frisky Horses

Finally, Patrolman John Harmon managed to grab a hold of the bridle of Beauty and the police lead her away with Princess following behind.

As this was going on, Smith, who operates a gas station on Route 13 and Edgely avenues, called police headquarters and reported his horses had broken loose from their stable. Kelton directed Smith to Kenwood.

Boy Injured

Bristol was prosecuted on the charge by Falls township police as the result of an accident in which a six-year-old boy was seriously injured.

The boy, Miguel Quinones, King's Farm, was struck by Bristol's auto at 8:20 a.m. on May 25 while crossing Borden Road near Ford Mill Road, Falls township.

Serious injuries included a fractured right hip and multiple fracture of the neck. Partially paralyzed, he was unconscious for four days and hospitalized for 28 days.

Three youngsters who witnessed the accident testified yesterday. They were, Nathan Swint, 15, who lives near Pennsbury Manor; Franklin Ellis, 14, and Wilbur Ivory, 12, of King's Farm.

Bristol did not have to testify, but a statement he gave previously to police was read in court.

In the statement, Bristol reportedly said he was going 45 to 50 miles an hour when he noticed the boy dash across the road. He said he couldn't stop in time.

Borden Road does not have a posted speed limit, police said.

Canal Move

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd goes before the House of Commons Monday to announce the Anglo-French decision, but informed sources said the U.S. action yesterday in freeing oil for Europe meant the two nations had agreed to withdraw quickly.

Final details of the withdrawal plan were worked out yesterday in conferences between Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, before returning to Paris early this morning, made it clear France was not withdrawing without conditions. These include military precautions and political questions.

Face Saving Remake

However, observers believed Pineau made the statement as a face-saving gesture and that he would go along with Britain.

Diplomatic circles said a hitch was still possible but that acting Turkish Foreign Minister Edem Menderes, now in London for talks on the Syria situation, urged speedy withdrawal in hopes of strengthening the Baghdad Pact.

One of the main reasons behind the Anglo-French decision was that work on clearing the canal must be speeded up to save the West European economy. And Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser has said there will be no work on the canal as long as Anglo-French forces remain there.

Entire Unit To Move Lock, Stock, Barrel

The Bensalem Township Police Department will be moved to new headquarters lock, stock, and gun barrel tomorrow or Monday, Chief William Riempf said today.

The new police headquarters at 2739 Mechanicsville road, Stansbury, is an out-growth of the department's rapid expansion and need for a headquarters of their own, Chief Riempf said.

The present headquarters is in the Bensalem Municipal Building, on Route 13 and Newportville road, Eddington.

Supervisors

The Township Supervisors, located in the Municipal Building, will move into the space vacated by the police department.

Officials said the seven-room residential-type building, will feature a reception room with a desk sergeant on duty, a storage room that may be converted into a cell room, an interrogation room for the department's 14 patrolmen, a dining area that can be used for photographic purposes, a kitchen, bath, carpentry, and private office for the chief.

Chief Pleased

Chief Riempf said, "Naturally we're pleased with the new building. It'll give us more room and give the supervisors more room! We'll be able to get more equipment into use in the new headquarters and we'll be more centrally located in the township," he said.

The building will be rented on renewable lease, the chief said. The same phone number, ME-9-1138, will be kept, Chief Riempf said.

The headquarters in the Municipal Building will be used exclusively by the Township Supervisors, giving them room for future expansion, the chief said, and the fire telephone board will remain at the Municipal building.

To Man Board

The Township secretaries will man the board during daylight hours and a civilian, who will be hired at a later date, will operate the board during evening hours, the chief said.

Full-time 24-hour operations will be kept, both on the fire board and at the new police building, Chief Riempf said.

The police department has been in existence only five years and has more than tripled its man power, Chief Riempf observed. The department began with one policeman and swelled to four men, the chief said, and then began to take size.

"When I came on almost a year ago," the chief said, "we had six policemen. Now we have 14 men and myself and four police cars," he said.

"With the new building, we can continue to grow and serve the Township," Chief Riempf said.

Firemen Contain Blaze In Field

A field fire, which spread to the corner of a house, was fought by firemen of the Trevo Heights and Trevo fire companies yesterday afternoon, on Brook avenue, Oxford.

The blaze started at 2:30 p.m. and spread to the home of Harry Rothwell Jr., 4530 Brook avenue, where, according to fire officials, it began to burn the building. It was quickly extinguished.

Trevo Heights was the first company to report. Heights firemen alerted the Trevoise company, which also reported.

Vice Ring Photos Reported Missing

PHILADELPHIA, (UP) — A scene photograph seized in the investigation of a tri-state vice ring has vanished from a locked filing cabinet on the seventh floor of City Hall.

County Detective James Tighe discovered the theft. The photos had been seized in a raid some months ago on the Spring House, Montgomery County estate of James and Cornelia Worden.

Cabinet Keys

Tighe said the keys to the cabinet were held only by Chief County Detective Thomas F. McDermott and Lt. Andrew Waters of the Morals Squad. He said McDermott could offer no explanation and Lt. Waters could not be reached for comment.

Tighe said the stolen photographs were not vital to the prosecution in the indictment of 18 persons here in Philadelphia. But he said they might have been helpful in an investigation of the robbery by Montgomery County District Attorney Bernard DiJoseph.

The missing prints, he explained, contained photographs of several persons who had not yet been identified by any of the 18 defendants seized here or the nine persons arrested or under bond in Montgomery county.

Move Will Speed Canal Reopening

U. S. Releases Oil Shipments To W. Europe

LONDON — UP — France and Britain were reported agreed today on plans for early withdrawal of troops from Egypt to speed the Suez Canal reopening and restore Western Allied unity before a full Syrian crisis breaks.

Soviet Russia kept the Middle East simmering by repeating its charges that the United States is carrying out a provocative campaign against Syria "in preparation of an armed attack."

Diplomats regarded the Syrian problem as potentially more dangerous than the Suez crisis. They said it was virtually certain Soviet "volunteers" would go into action if there is war between Syria and Turkey and Iraq.

Israel Readies Warning

The Israeli government ordered its United Nations representative to submit a resolution condemning Russia for its meddling in Middle East affairs.

Authoritative sources said Britain and France had agreed to pull their infantry troops completely out of Egypt by the end of the year at the latest and possibly by Christmas.

By doing so, they hoped to rebuild the shattered Western Alliance which both nations regard as necessary for their survival. But they still remain highly critical of American policy.

Face Parliamentary Revolts

Both governments faced the possibility of parliamentary revolts unless they make the withdrawal as painless as possible. This is to be done through a gradual withdrawal that would permit

Rebel Leader Back In Cuba

HAVANA, Cuba — UP — The reported return to Cuba of rebel leader Fidel Castro spurred fears today of further bloodshed.

Castro has vowed that he and his followers will overthrow the government of President Fulgencio Batista before the end of the year or "perish in the attempt."

The return of the young rebel leader from exile in Mexico overshadowed Friday's violence in which at least 25 persons were killed or wounded. Casualties included six killed and 19 wounded.

Frisky Horses Take Run In Levittown

The clattering of hoofs re-flooded through the streets of Levittown yesterday as a pair of wayward horses frolicked through the community.

It took the determined effort of several Bristol Township police officers, the dogcatcher and finally the owner of the horses to end the frisky cantering of animals.

But they weren't caught until they terrified the neighborhood and trampled lawns. The officers spotted the frisky horses at Kindle lane and Kenwood section, Levittown yes-

Crash Kills 10 Airmen

By UNITED PRESS

Two U.S. Air Force jet bombers crashed Friday night, killing ten fliers from one and dropping four others alive into a snowy Canadian wilderness.

All 10 men aboard a B52 Stratofortress died when the $8 million plane crashed and burned in a grainfield shortly after taking off from Castle Air Force Base, Calif., the Air Force announced.

The other plane, a B47 Stratojet, burst into flames while flying over Ontario bush country. Its crew of four parachuted safely and a joint Canadian-U.S. rescue operation swung into action today to bring them out.

The ground rescuers expected to reach the fliers ahead of aerial rescue parties scheduled to take off at dawn in planes and a helicopter.

Bazante reported that Mrs. Margaret E. Mazzanti, 31, of 121 South Bellevue avenue, Langhorne, driver of the second car, her four-year-old son, Vincent, and Mrs. Jean Wegner, 23, of 1556 Fairview avenue, Parkland, were all thrown from the vehicle.

They were taken to Lower Bucks County hospital and treated for lacerations and abrasions and discharged when examination showed no apparent serious injury.

Victim Hit At Route 1 Underpass

Coroner's Inquest Scheduled Tonight In Municipal Bldg.

A pedestrian, tentatively identified as a former Massachusetts state mental hospital worker, was killed instantly 6:15 p.m. yesterday when struck by a car on Route 1 at the Superhighway underpass.

The impact flung the victim, identified by police as Cecil L. Newton, of Tewksbury, Mass., about 10 feet off the road.

The driver of the car was Donald Kline, 23-year-old Navy man stationed at the Boston Navy Yard. Kline, who lives at 6787 Crittenden street, Philadelphia, was going home on a weekend pass. He is a petty officer third class and assigned to an ice breaker.

Kline told Middletown police officer Charles Bates that he didn't see Newton. The only indication of the accident, Kline said, was the thud of the crash.

Patrolman Bates said that Newton, who was wearing dark clothing apparently stepped onto the road in the path of Kline's car. The officer pointed out that the only street light at that point was burned out.

$1000 Bail

Kline was released under $1000 bail by JP William Oettinger on a charge of involuntary manslaughter. A coroner's inquest will be held tonight at the Middletown municipal building.

Newton was pronounced dead at 6:45 p.m. by Dr. Albert S. Hill, of Eddington. His body was removed to the Dunn Funeral home, Hulmeville, so an autopsy could be performed.

Bates said he identified the victim by a social security card in his pocket and several letters and checks. One letter, dated September 30, was addressed to Newton at the Massachusetts state mental hospital, Tewksbury, Mass. The victim was between 50 and 55 years old Bates said.

Court Lifts Injunction Against Twp.

The Philadelphia Federal District Court yesterday upheld a decision by Justice of the Peace Earl Dougherty requiring a Philadelphia contractor to pay some $2,500 in fines for failing to get building permits for electrical work on 97 homes in Bristol Terrace II.

Dougherty's decision thus far has been blocked by a restraining order brought by the Federal Housing Authority, which contend the local squire had no jurisdiction over a federal project.

The authority contended the Emerson Electrical Co., which carried out the electrical installations, did not need to get building permits for the work from the township because of the nature of the housing project.

The restraining order was granted Sept. 7. The case was scheduled to come up for hearing earlier, but was marked by a judicial disqualification when District Judge George A. Welsh remarked, "I don't know why you are fighting this case, you can't win," to Dougherty and Gilbert Kraus, township solicitor.

Kraus challenged Judge Welsh's comment on prejudicial grounds and Judge Welsh agreed to step down from the bench for the trial. His place was taken by Judge Francis L. Van Dusen, who dissolved the temporary restraining order, allowing Dougherty to enforce the fines.

Dougherty said he will await advice of the court as to the amount of time the electrical firm should be given to pay the levy of $25 and costs on the 97 counts lodged against it.

Dougherty disclosed that Bronson earlier agreed to pay the fines but went into an unexplained delay after he was granted time to raise the money. He said then he was in the process of issuing a warrant for his arrest.

Four Lower Bucks County cases were continued in county criminal court this week, in addition to those of William R. Smith for murder and Albert A. Kumitis for a Bristol safe burglary.

Charles Day, Philadelphia, operating a car with a suspended license in Falls township; Edward Wünsche, Hatboro, passing worthless checks in Bristol.

John Watson, Sr., Philadelphia, operating a car in Middletown township with a suspended license, and Robert W. Rich, 7 Garden Lane, Levittown, burglary.

Rich is scheduled to plead guilty on Dec. 7 to taking two bottles of liquor from Hillside Tavern, Edgely.

Now that colder weather has arrived, most "do it - yourself" Levittowners have taken to working on projects indoors.

All told, it cost about $50 to build.

2 Motorists Get Tickets

Two motorists were given traffic tickets as the result of a rear end collision on Route 1 near Thirtymile, Falls Township, at 7:30 last night.

Police cited William C. Chester, 53, of Gillam and Hill Avenues, Langhorne for failing to yield the right of way. Officers Robert Gallagher and Elliott Bainbridge reported Chester pulled out of the market and made a left turn on Route 1.

A car driven by Walter E. Eppright, 43, of 165 Kenwood Drive, Levittown, crashed into the rear of Chester's vehicle. Police charged Eppright withreckless driving.

No one was injured.

Bensalem Mishaps Cut

Bensalem Police Chief William Riempf's "shake 'em up system" against accidents got results as he announced that last month's accident rate in the township was cut almost in half over the October report.

Chief Riempf said the accident report for last month listed only 18 accidents as compared with the October report of 34 accidents.

This is due, in part to the three speed traps that were operated last month, the chief said, and due in part to the 35-mile per hour speed limits in the township, directed Smith to Kenwood.

$206 Donated

The Lower Bucks emergency campaign is headed by Medill Bair, chairman of the Lower Bucks Red Cross District, with the assistance of Mrs. Clyde F. Brown, director and volunteer services chairman and John L. Marsh, executive director.

Mr. Marsh pointed out that the Red Cross District's campaign is only for money because it is impossible to transport and sort goods fast enough to meet the urgent needs. But donations of objects for Hungarian relief may be delivered to the Friends Service Committee in Philadelphia.

Red Cross Volunteers
Under Mrs. Brown's direction, Red Cross volunteers are already carrying out well-organized regional campaigns throughout Lower Bucks County, centered in Levittown, Bristol, Morrisville, Andalusia, Langhorne, Southampton, Newtown, and Yardley.

The fund drive is being conducted with canisters at places of business, industrial contacts and by the churches. In addition, contributions may be sent to the District office at 435 Radcliffe Street, Bristol.

Mrs. Brown today cited the Articles of Faith, which has sparked the Red Cross movement and caused it to be saluted as the greatest institution for mercy and help in the world.

"Your contribution to the Red Cross Hungarian Relief Fund," she said, "will assist the Red Cross in fulfilling its charter obligation, to continue and carry on a system of national and international relief and apply the same to mitigating the suffering caused . . . by great national calamities."

Bensalem Police Ready For New Headquarters

Burlington May Be Site Of Steel Mill

Reports that a huge steel mill would be built in Burlington and Florence Townships were running stronger than ever despite the lack of confirmation from any source.

Speculation has it that either the Phoenix Iron and Steel Company, a subsidiary of the Barium Steel Company, of Harrisburg, or the Lukens Steel Company of Coatesville, will build a plant on a 900-acre tract across the river.

Several persons, including Mayor Michael Chantl, of Florence Township, confirmed that something "was in the wind," but all said they were pledged to secrecy until the company gave its clearance.

Lukens Steel has denied any plans of expansion. While the Phoenix firm said it is considering various expansion programs which might include acquiring land, officials added no decision has been reached yet.

Reports have it that the plant would be located in the vicinity of the new factory of the National Gypsum Company and the Turnpike bridge.

U.S. Offers

The President said the offer of asylum would give practical effect to the American people's intense desire to help the victims of Soviet oppression."

The government also will materially assist the government of Austria, "which has responded so generously to the refugees' needs, to carry out its policy of political asylum," the President said.

Mr. Eisenhower said he would ask Congress to enact provisions which would "allow at least some of the escapees" the opportunity of permanent resettlement in the United States, having in mind particularly the fact that many of those refugees undoubtedly have relatives here."

The President said he had directed the secretary of defense to work out arrangements bringing the refugees to the United States under agreements to be made with Austria and the Intergovernmental Committee on European Migration.

About 5,500 of the refugees will receive Refugee Relief Act visas under the emergency program initiated three weeks ago. The remaining 15,000 will be admitted under parole provisions of the Immigration and Nationality Act, the announcement said.

When the 21,500 have been exhausted, the situation will be re-examined, the President said.

So far, fewer than 1,000 refugees have reached the United States in the emergency program.

Bristol did not have to testify, but a statement he gave previously to police was read in court.

In the statement, Bristol reportedly said he was going 45 to

Fairless Hills Association Aims At Governing Ties

Chiefs Pleased

Chief Riempf said, "Naturally we're pleased with the new building. It'll give us more room and give the supervisors more room! We'll be able to get more equipment into use in the new headquarters and we'll be more centrally located in the township," he said.

The building will be rented on a renewable lease, the chief said. The same phone number, ME-9-1138, will be kept, Chief Riempf said.

The headquarters in the Municipal Building will be used exclusively by the Township Supervisors, giving them room for future expansion, the chief said, and the fire telephone board will remain at the Municipal building.

To Man Board

The Township secretaries will man the board during daylight hours and a civilian, who will be hired at a later date, will operate the board during evening hours, the chief said.

Full-time 24-hour operations will be kept, both on the fire board and at the new police building, Chief Riempf said.

The police department has been in existence only five years and has more than tripled its man power, Chief Riempf observed. The department began with one policeman and swelled to four men, the chief said, and then began to take size.

"When I came on almost a year ago," the chief said, "we had six policemen. Now we have 14 men and myself and four police cars," he said.

"With the new building, we can continue to grow and serve the Township," Chief Riempf said.
